TAFT'S MESSAGE TO THE SENATE

Given Careful Consideration by the Members.

CONSIDERED VERY IMPORTANT

Document Places in the Shade All Other Questions Pertaining Strictly to the Schedule of the Tariff Bill.
Message Referred to Committee on Finance by a Strictly Party Vote.

Washington, June 17.—The message of President Taft recommending the incorporation of a provision in the tariff bill for the taxation of the earnings of corporations and the adoption of a resolution looking to an amendment of the Constitution so as to permit the levying of an income tax without interference from the courts, which was received by the senate, was generally regarded by senators as of such transcendent importance as to place in the shade all other questions pertaining strictly to the schedules of the tariff bill. The message was received early in the afternoon and after brief discussion on the method of proceeding was referred to the committee on finance.

There was a full senate present and the document received the most careful attention from all senators. Senator Gore attempted to have the committee instructed to report on the income tax feature of the message by next Friday, when, under general agreement, the income tax question is again to be taken up. His motion was, however, voted down and for the first time in many weeks the division was strictly along party lines, all the Republicans voting to lay on the table, while all the Democrats cast their votes against that proposition. During the informal discussion of the reference of the message Senator Bailey gave notice that he would demand that provision be made for a graduation of any income tax that might be provided for and intimated that much time would be necessary to get through a provision which did not carry that qualification.

Amendments Voted Down.

After considerable more consideration the senate adopted the finance committee's recommendations regarding the admission of Philippine products, but not until after two or three amendments had been voted down. Senator Foster of Louisiana occupied the early hours of the day with a speech opposing the free admission of any Philippine sugar into the United States. He took the position that with the encouragement that would be given by allowing 300,000 tons of the Philippine product to come in free of duty the production of the island would be so rapidly increased that it would soon exceed the quantity named.

During the afternoon Senator Aldrich presented the finance committee's substitute for the house zinc schedule and it received a major portion of the attention of the senate during the afternoon. The committee amendment provided for a graduated scale of duty on the zinc and zinc plate of the fixed rate of the house bill.

Sensor Burton spoke against any duty on zinc ore, while Senators Heyburn, Guggenheim and others advocated even a stiffer rate than was proposed by the committee.

All of the finance committee's recommendations in the zinc schedule were ultimately agreed to and the paragraph as amended was finally adopted. The committee's suggestion of the changes in the silk schedule were also adopted. A number of other committee amendments of a minor character were presented just before adjournment and some of them were acted upon.

TOWNS WRECKED BY TORNADO

At Least Two People Are Killed in Missouri.

Joplin, Mo., June 17.—Passengers arriving here after midnight on a Frisco railroad train reported that the towns of Purdy and Monett were wrecked and the surrounding country devastated by a tornado. At least two were killed, they say.

Shell to Hit Two Marks.

A shell which will hit two marks will be tested during the summer. The solid steel head of the shell contains a charge of high explosive, which is detonated on impact. Back of this is the shrapnel chamber, containing 120 bullets and a charge of high explosive. The shrapnel portion can be timed to explode above a body of troops, leaving the solid head of the shell to pass on and strike an independent blow. Some preliminary tests have proved very satisfactory.

SERVANTS ON WITNESS STAND

Continue to Testify in Gould Separation Suit.

ORDEAL VERY EMBARRASSING

Plaintiff Compelled to Listen to Stories of Her Alleged Indulgence in Alcoholic Beverages and the Alleged Use by Her of Remarks Ill Suited to a Woman's Tongue While Under Influence of Liquor.

New York, June 17.—Howard Gould did not go on the stand during the day to testify against his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, whose suit for separation he is opposing; instead there was a continuation of servants' gossip, accounts by menials of their former mistress' eccentricities, humiliating details, as sworn to on the stand, of Mrs. Gould's alleged fondness for alcoholic beverages and her manner at such times when what the witnesses said was influence of liquor brought from her lips remarks that are ill suited to a woman's tongue. And indications are that the plaintiff must endure for another day, possibly for two, the embarrassing ordeal of listening to the testimony of former servants, all of whom have been called at the instance of her husband to sustain, if possible, his contention that living with his wife was impracticable and decidedly unpleasant, hence that the charge of abandonment, the mainstay of Mrs. Gould's case, is not borne out.

As several other witnesses are to be called by the defense, announcement was made by Justice Dowling just before adjournment of the case in the supreme court that late sessions will be held during the remainder of the week.

What Katherine Clemmons Gould heard during the day was but a reiteration, and in some respects an amplification of the previous day's testimony, the basis of which was that at various and diverse times at the vast Long Island show place, Castle Gould, she had according to the witnesses, been intoxicated, had abused menials, given arbitrary and unreasonable commands to the servants and had used rather severe language in altercations with her husband.

Servants on the Stand.

Coachman, gardener, chambermaid and other servants went on the stand and swore to the demeanor of the woman who used to give them orders. An occasion when she would have fallen from her carriage but for the protecting arm of a coachman, an attempt of her's to drive through a closed gate, a time when a footman saved her from falling when intoxicated, as he testified, were among the things alleged as Long Island rustic or former servant went on and passed from the witness stand.

As on the previous day Mrs. Gould was greatly moved as she heard these declarations, and she has evinced her intention of fighting bitterly in rebuttal against them.

A carpenter, Herbert Trotter, was the last witness of the day. He said when he was working in the servants' quarters, Mrs. Gould rushed in at one time, swore at and abused the servants.

"Her voice was shaky and incoherent, her hair disheveled and she was very profane. She was decidedly drunk," said the witness.

"At another time she came into the stables while I was working there, and swore at the grooms, and was so drunk that every one could tell she was drunk," he continued. "She tried to go upstairs to the harness room, but could not navigate the steps," he added emphatically.

HONORS WRIGHT BROTHERS

Home City of Aviators Pays Tribute to Them.

Dayton, O., June 17.—Almost everything in Dayton today bears some semblance to a flying machine. Vehicles are decorated to look like aeroplanes, airships rest on the tops of high buildings as if poised for flight and every person wears some token that the era of aerial navigation is at hand.

The occasion is the opening of Dayton's two-days' celebration in honor of Wilbur and Orville Wright. The city, proud of being the Wright brothers' home, will endeavor to make the event of national interest.

Piano Plant Damaged.

New York, June 17.—Fire did damage to the big piano factory of Hardman, Peck & Co. estimated at $400,000. Two wings of the plant were destroyed.

TAX ON INCOMES OF CORPORATIONS

Recommended to Congress by President Taft.

Washington, June 17.—Recommending legislation looking to the placing of a 2 per cent tax on the net income of corporations and also the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the imposition of an income tax without an apportionment among the several states, President Taft sent to congress a message embodying his views on the subject. This action followed a protracted special meeting of the cabinet.

In his message the president speaks of the apparent inability of congress to agree to an inheritance tax, and as regards an income tax he refers to the decision of the supreme court in the case of Pollock vs. the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, in which the court held the tax to be unconstitutional unless apportioned according to population.

"It is," says the president, "undoubtedly a power which the government ought to have. It might be indispensable to the nation's life in great crises."

The amendment, therefore, he declared was the only proper course. Such an amendment to the Constitution, he contended, was preferable to the one proposed of reviving a law judicially declared to be unconstitutional.

The amendment which he proposes should be made to the tariff bill provides for the imposition upon all corporations and joint stock companies for profit, except national banks (otherwise taxed), savings banks, and building and loan associations, of an excise tax of 2 per cent on the net income of said corporation. This, it is estimated by him, will bring an annual revenue of $25,000,000.

"This is a tax on privilege and not on property," he says, "and is within the federal power without apportionment according to population."

The president points out that another merit to the tax on corporations is the federal supervision, which will give to the government, the stockholders and the public knowledge of the real business transactions and the gains and profits of every corporation in the country. The adoption of the amendment, he says, will make a long step "toward that supervisory control of corporations which may prevent a further abuse of power."

SHERIDAN BREAKS RECORD

Sets New Mark in Standing Hop, Skip and Jump.

Pittsburg, June 17.—Martin J. Sheridan, champion all-around athlete of the world, wearing the insignia of the Irish-American Athletic club, lowered his own record in the standing hop-skip and jump, hurling himself 32 feet, 6 1/2 inches. Handicapped by having to throw up hill, Sheridan also tossed the discus, free style, 140 feet and one-half inch.

T. T. McGrath of the New York Athletic club and J. J. Flannagan of the Irish-American Athletic club, New York, tied in the sixteen-pound hammer throw event, each throwing 167 feet. The contest was stopped by the police, as both contestants threw the weight into a dense crowd several times. No one was injured.

DENVER CLUB VICTORIOUS

Appears to Have a Safe Claim on the Morris Memorial Trophy.

Chicago, June 17.—From unofficial scores so far received it appears that the Denver Country club of Denver, Colo., has a safe claim on the Tom Morris memorial trophy, for which the first annual competition took place on the links of the Western Golf association.

The Denver players report a score of 16 down on par. Close behind them came the Annandale Country club of Pasadena, Cal., with a score of 17 down.

The Inverness club of Toledo, O., led by Harold Weber, scored a 22; the Memphis (Tenn.) Country club, 23; the Exmoor club of Highland Park, Ill., 25, and the Oakmont club of Pittsburg 36.

Par for the Denver Country club course is 75 1/2 and the distance is 6,132 yards.

Among the other scores reported were:

Country club, Los Angeles, Cal., 43; Onwentsia club, Lake Forest, Ill., 46; Country club, Omaha, and Arlington Country club, Columbus, O., 49; Skokie Country club, Chicago, 50; Beverly Country club, Chicago, 52; Riverside Country club, Chicago, 53; Golf club, Detroit, 54; Midlothian Country club, Chicago, 55.

From these figures the scores ranged up to 129 below.

Except in the far northern cities the golfers were favored by good golfing weather.

The Tom Morris trophy was donated to the Western Golf association by Peter Dawson of Glasgow, Scotland, in memory of Tom Morris, who for thirty-five years was a professional on the noted St. Andrews links and who played the game for seventy-five years, being five times the British champion.

No Change in Situation.

Honolulu, June 17.—With the leaders awaiting a reply to their appeal to Ambassador Takahira at Washington to make the arrest of four Japanese editors and the seizure of their papers last week by the territorial authorities the subject of an international inquiry, there have been no further developments in the Japanese strike situation.

Stock Exchange All Right.

CALHOUN'S DEFENSE SUBMITTED TO JURY

Senior Counsel Practically Concludes His Argument.

San Francisco, June 17.—Patrick Calhoun's explanation of the bribery indictment against him was practically submitted to the jury when M. A. Moore, senior of the six counsel for the president of the United Railroads, promised to close his case during the first hour of today's session.

Mr. Moore's argument, consuming eight hours, was pronounced by adherents of both sides a masterly review of the case. Mr. Moore declared there was a fatal error in the prosecution's case in the testimony designed to show the offer of a bribe. The state had failed, he declared, to show that Gallagher made an offer to Nicholas prior to actual payment of the money. He argued, regarding extracts from the transcripts of prior trials, that Gallagher and Nicholas had both failed on several occasions prior to the present trial to testify that any such offer had been made and he intimated that the prosecution had submitted a machine-made case that showed the marks of the tools.

"Without this potent factor for this absolute essential," said Moore, "this case falls to the ground of its own weight. If there was no offer, there was no bribe. Nicholas, as well as Gallagher, comes before you an accredited perjurer and has confessed as well that he had been guilty of high crimes against the state. He has sworn both ways—first, that he had received an offer, and then that he had not."

Mr. Moore was particularly severe in his denunciation of James L. Gallagher.

ICE KING IS OUT ON BAIL

Charles W. Morse Will Be Free for Four Months.

New York, June 17.—Charles W. Morse, convicted banker, was released on bail pending the taking up of his appeal in the United States circuit court of appeals next October. For nearly four months Morse will be free to go and come as he pleases. At the end of that time the court of appeals will either order a new trial or affirm the sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment imposed upon the former ice king in November of last year.

The bail bond for $125,000 was signed by twenty wealthy friends of Morse who volunteered for this service several months ago, and Morse quit the custody of the United States marshal.

"I am very glad for this," he said to a little group of friends who gathered about him in the federal building to offer their congratulations. "And now I have a busy four months before me. I am going straight to my home and take care of myself and of my wife. There is a little planning to be done, and we expect to go to the country for a short time until I can think it all out. Then I shall get back here and climb into the harness to pull all the tangled threads together again."

The order of the court admitting Morse to bail came as something of a surprise to his wife and friends when it was handed down. They have been working for his release since the early part of the year, but there had been no indication that a response to their petitions would be given at once.

OCEAN GOLF NOW THE RAGE.

Played on Broad Deck of a Steamer.
All Rules of Game Observed.

Ocean golf, played on the broad deck of a steamer, is the latest pastime for transatlantic passengers, and to Mr.
and Mrs. J. H. Conrad of Chicago is given the credit for the creation of a sport bound to become very popular among the voyagers of the deep.

Probably most of the credit for the innovation belongs to Mrs. Conrad, who is a devotee to golf and is not unknown among the golf experts in the western metropolis. She, with her husband, was a passenger on the Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, which recently arrived at New York. The Conrads suggested to their fellow passengers the adoption of the game, and before the voyage was fairly begun ocean golf was quite the rage. Four days of fine weather were devoted to the game, many women participating in it. Charles L.
Bishop of Lockport, N. Y., captured all records, his best effort being twenty-seven points.

"The game of ocean golf is played on the steamer's deck over a nine hole course," explained Mrs. Conrad, "and we use the disk and other implements of the shuffleboard game. I can assure every one that ocean golf is a sport and diversion just too lovely for anything. All the rules of regular golf are observed, though the holes, bunkers and all other obstacles to be overcome are drawn in chalk on the deck. Just say to all skeptics that ocean golf is the finest game aboard ship that ever was."

Woman as Tennis Referee.

A recent lawn tennis tournament at the Dulwick Farms Tennis club in England had on the tournament committee Miss Norah Lattey. The regular referee of the tournament was taking part in some of the events, and Miss Lattey as assistant referee took charge of the tournament. According to an English authority, Miss Lattey handled the tournament very capably and as far as is known is the first woman referee of any lawn tennis competition in the metropolitan district.

English Dislike of Humor.
It is sometimes a matter for wonder that humorists are allowed to live.
Deep down in our English characters is a conscious dislike of laughter.
Laughter is an expression of emotion, and we have a horror of it. It may be that this secret objection to the comic muse is a surviving relic of the sturdy old puritanism which has done so much for the race in many directions and handicapped it in others.
When Disraeli began to be prominent in the house of commons it used to be said of him that, though he was a very amusing fellow and made the house laugh, he could never hope to take rank as a statesman. Lord Randolph Churchill went through exactly the same experience in his early days.
Few people would admit that a man who expressed himself humorously had any claim to be taken seriously.—London Black and White.

TALKS OF THE NEW RAILROAD

Cuyler Adams Tells Reporter Something of the Aims of the Cuyuna Range

THE LINE NOT YET LOCATED

It is Expected, However, that Contracts Will be Let in a Very Few Weeks

Cuyler Adams, the president of the Cuyuna Range railroad company was seen at his home in Deerwood by a reporter Wednesday evening. When asked as to the progress being made by the new road he stated that the surveyors were camped at present about three miles north of east of Deerwood. They are, he stated, working on several routes. No route has been definitely decided upon, and none will be until the reports of the surveyors are in the hands of the officials of the company. He declared that the reports that the road would pass through Aitkin are premature. The Aitkin people were asked for assurances that the property owners would not hold the company up for right of way and depot grounds should they want to pass through that town, and these assurance have been made but the company does not itself yet know as to whether it will build through Aitkin or north or south of that place.

Mr. Adams further stated that the Cuyuna Range Railroad had its own terminals in Superior, purchased over a year ago. They comprise 40 acres of land on the river near the steel plant and are entirely distinct from the Soo road. He stated further that the company had an optional agreement with the Soo by which it could get track or tonnage rights over that road and would probably use them, temporarily at least, but that the company was entirely distinct from and independent of the Soo. The Cuyuna Range road must be ready to handle ore next year and it is probable that it will run its trains over the Soo tracks for a time. It has its own rolling stock contracted for, however, and the road entirely financed.

Mr. Adams stated that they hoped to have the surveys completed so as to get the contract let within the next two or three weeks and then to push construction at once, but that these things were somewhat uncertain and there might be an unexpected delay.

A Thrilling Rescue

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash. was served from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." Women Who Are Envid

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wrecked complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at H. P. Dunn's.

Troubles Makers Cured

When a sufferer from stomach trouble takes Dr. King's New Life Pill he's mighty glad to see his Dyspepsia and Indigestion fly, but more, he's tickled over his new, fine appetite, strong nerves, leaty vigor, all because stomach, liver and kidneys now work right. 25c at H. H. Dunn's.

DYKEMAN DOINGS

Mrs. T. G. Dykeman was a caller at the C. R. Drake home last Thursday.

A number of Dykeman young people attended the social at Mrs. Smaltz's Saturday evening.

We are glad to note that there is being some work done on the highways through this vicinity. "Let the good work go on."

It is rumored that the wedding bells will soon be ringing again—who said the young men of our village lacked courage?

Mrs. A. C. Love and Miss Alma Scheeline were visitors at the home of Mrs. G. Holt's west of Brainerd last week.

Mrs. Maude Dykeman and children intend leaving soon for Missoula, Mont., where they expect to make their future home.

The iron prospectors still continue to cruise through these parts.

Mrs. Ernest Persson and little son left Tuesday for Vineland to attend the wedding of Mrs. Persson's sister, Miss Minnie Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cofield were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Persson Sunday.

Preparations are being made for a celebration at Dykeman the Fourth of July. All anticipate a very pleasant time. Every one is invited to come and bring your dinner and stay all day.

Our school closes Friday June 25th with a picnic given by the teacher and her pupils.

Miss Nettie Brockway, of Vineland, is visiting friends here this week.

Judging by his writings the Dykeman reporter for the Brainerd Arena has rather a poor opinion of his neighbors. However, we wish to inform the public generally that we are not a set of a scoundrels, misers or blackheads, but quite an ordinary lot of people and feel sorry our reporter isn't "smart" enough to know it.

ECLIPSE TONIGHT

Brainerd People Will Have an Opportunity to See Phenomenon
This Evening

Smoked glass promises to be at a premium before sunset tonight, when all Brainerd will have an opportunity of viewing some phases of the most singular eclipse in history.

To astronomers the eclipse is of special interest because in some parts of the world it will be total for a part of the time, and annular for a time. Neither the total nor the annular phases will be seen in Brainerd, but about one-fourth of the sun's area will be shut off from view.

The eclipse will be first noticed at 6:13 p. m., while the sun is still high, and the shadow will be visible until nearly sunset. As the unclipped surface will be bright enough to blind the eyes, it can only be viewed for any length of time through smoked glass, which can be prepared by holding it in an oil lamp flame or low-burning gas flame.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. "SUNNYSIDE."

Why He Does It

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist H. P. Dunn to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan."

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicine power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, ought to take advantage of this opportunity."

DEERWOOD NOTES

Herman Peterson went to Minneapolis Wednesday on a business trip.

John Oberg went to Staples Tuesday evening on a land deal.

F. E. Oberg and Oscar Carlson went to Minneapolis Tuesday night on real estate business.

Olson Skau has secured the contract for painting the new drug store building owned by Dr. Sewall and commenced work thereon on Wednesday.

The Cuyuna Range townsite company has its addition to Deerwood, which will be known as the first addition to the town of Deerwood, platted and has already commenced the work of grading the principal street. The new addition adjoins Archibald's addition on the east and the main business street will be a continuation of one street of the original town. The company expects to have its plats on file in a short time and place its property formally on the market. The townsite company has already started work on an office building and has deals closed for several business blocks as soon as it is possible to deliver deeds. A large hardware store and a hotel are among the new business enterprises rumored. It is strongly rumored that there will be an overhead crossing of the Northern Pacific tracks in the east part of the townsite.

The building being erected for an office for the engineers of the Cuyuna Range railroad is about ready for the plasterers and they expect to be located in their new quarters in the near future.

The Misses Zahm, of Minneapolis, have arrived at Tourist Lodge on their regular summer outing trip.

Carl E. Carlson is improving rapidly and expects to be able to get back into the harness in a few months. He recently underwent a serious surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Masson and children have gone to St. Ann, Ill., for a visit. He will be absent but a few days but she and the children will remain there until their new home here is ready for them. Claud Duffy, of Aitkin, is assisting at the depot during Mr. Masson's absence.

H. J. Spencer, vice president of the Mahlum Lumber company came over from Brainerd Wednesday afternoon to give Mr. Thomas, the local agent the benefit of his skill as an expert book keeper. He and Mr. Thomas went to Brainerd on a freight that night, Mr. Thomas returning the next morning.

Miss Kate Barker was here from McGregor Tuesday on business.

The Deerwood band gave a very enjoyable concert Saturday evening. The program rendered under the leadership of Prof. Knupple, of St. Louis, who is spending the summer at his cottage on Cedar Lake, was a fine one. The cornet solo rendered by Prof. Knupple was especially enjoyable. A dance followed the concert, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all participating.

Geo. W. Huss, the chief engineer of the Cuyuna Range railroad, was in Deerwood on business Wednesday.

J. M. Phelps, of Philbrook, was a Deerwood visitor Tuesday.

C. K. Leith, the famous geologist, of Madison, Wis., and Carl Zapffe, of Brainerd, were in Deerwood Monday looking over the iron range. They refused to be interviewed as to the range or any matters pertaining thereto, but the fact that as eminent and busy a man as Mr. Leith deems the Cuyuna range worthy repeated visits is an encouraging sign.

Al Mead, of Aitkin, was a Deerwood Wednesday.

He struck on his shoulders and was badly bruised. Dr. Sewall at once took him to The Adams, where he is stopping, and made him as comfortable as possible. It is not thought that his injuries will prove serious.

A VERY BUSY MAN.

Charming Experience With an Over-worked Irish Watchmaker.

I fell in with a delightful man at a little town in County Fermanagh. I wanted a little thing done to my watch, and I asked him how long it would take to do it. He assured me that he was driven to death with work and was up till late every night trying to get ahead, but that he would try to find time to mend my watch some time before 7 o'clock, when he nominally closed. Then he followed me to the door of his shop and began to ask me questions about America. He pointed out different passersby and told me their life histories. And every once in a while he would say: "I've not had a day off for nearly a year, not even bank holiday. Never a minute for anything but work. I've an order now that's going to keep me busy, except for the time I'll give to your watch, all the rest of the day. And dinner eaten in my workshop to save time."

I bade him good day and didn't go near there until 7 o'clock in the evening. I found him outside the shop discussing the strike of the constabulary at Belfast with a neighbor.

"Awfully sorry, sir, but I've been so busy today that I've been unable to finish that job. It'll not take over twenty minutes when I get to it. Can you come in the morning?"

Next morning I was at his shop at 9 o'clock, and he was just taking down the shutters. Said he worked until 10 o'clock the night before, but seemed farther behind than before. If I'd come up into his workshop he'd fix my watch while I waited.

Up there he had some photographs to show me that he had taken a year ago and had only just found time to develop. We talked photography for twenty minutes, and then he fixed my watch in a jiffy when he got to work. From "Just Irish," by Charles Battell Loomis.

The opposing candidates resorted to blows. Friends rushed in to separate them. Each struggled to get at the other. Candidate No. 1, seeing the extremely violent efforts of candidate No. 2, cried out: "More of you men hold Swanson! One man can hold me!"—Everybody's.

WILL FIGHT FOR AN INCOME TAX

Progressive Republicans Will Continue Contest.

IN SPITE OF TAFT'S MESSAGE

They Decide to Keep Up Their Struggle for an Income Tax Amendment to the Pending Tariff Bill—Do Not Believe That the President's Plan Is Broad Enough to Accomplish the Ends They Desire.

Washington, June 17.—Five progressive Republican senators, Messrs. Borah, Bristow, Cummins, La Follette and Clapp, conferred to determine what their attitude is to be in relation to the income tax amendment to the tariff bill in the face of President Taft's special message to congress favoring the submission of the question to the states for a constitutional amendment and the enactment of a law taxing the net earnings of corporations.

They decided that the president's plan is not inconsistent with their demand for the adoption of an amendment taxing incomes and that both may be adopted in harmony. They assume that the president's plan, endorsed by leading Republicans on the finance committee, is designed to "chloroform" the income tax amendment, but nevertheless announce that they will continue to fight for its adoption. In a brief statement prepared by Messrs. Borah and Bristow, the supporters of an income tax amendment say:

"The friends of the income tax feel it a duty to continue to put forth every effort to secure the adoption of the measure. They will therefore urge the adoption of the amendment. They also stand ready to support a resolution providing for an amendment to the Constitution of the United States. While they believe that the supreme court will sustain the law, yet to provide against any possible contingency that might result from an adverse decision, they gladly favor the proposition to amend the Constitution. They do not feel satisfied with simply a corporation tax. A tax upon the net income of corporations also will very imperfectly reach the desired result. It will tax tens of thousands of stockholders whose total incomes are very small and will exempt in large measures immense personal incomes of the country. The provision they favor treats large incomes exactly alike, whether received by corporations or individuals, and whether arising from interest, dividends, inheritances or otherwise. The plan which they propose simply carries the president's views to their legitimate end and is as consonant with the decision of the supreme court as is the tax on corporation incomes alone. There is no reason for exempting from this tax the vast incomes of individuals like Carnegie, Rockefeller and others, a very large part of whose fortunes do not consist of corporation stocks. It is also well known that the corporations, especially the larger ones, can in most instances shift the burden of the tax to the public by imposing upon the people increased charges and prices.

"As to the publicity feature, there is no substantial difference between the two measures. In other words, there is the same necessity for securing information and insuring publicity in the income tax as in the corporation tax.

"Every possible effort will be made to secure the passage of the income tax amendment."

The small attendance at the conference, it is asserted, does not augur a lack of sympathy with the income tax proposition, but is explained by the fact that the meeting was not called until after the president's message was received and many senators had engagements which they could not break.

THE SEA ELEPHANT.

His Fearful Jaws the Chief Danger in an Attack.

The chief danger attending the killing of the sea elephant is in approaching too near his terrible jaws, which are capable of biting in two an iron rod the thickness of one's finger. The hunter, however, must get pretty close, as the thick hide and blubber have rendered the animal practically impervious to attack, the only vulnerable point being a spot about the size of a walnut above each eye. Careless hunters have at times got within reach of the brute's teeth and have escaped only by dexterously wriggling from their clothes. I had occasion once to shed my coat with great agility, one of the smaller beasts having caught me by the sleeve, says Captain B. D. Cleveland in the American Magazine.

One afternoon's kill had been about forty animals, some of which had given me and my four hunters considerable trouble. This was mainly due to the treacherous footing and the heavy nature of the work, not only in killing, but in stripping the ponderous brutes. We were anxious to make the afternoon's kill an even fifty, and night was fast coming on.

In cutting out two particularly hard fighters, a male and female, I had overlooked a young bull partly hidden behind an ice hummock. We had stripped both animals and, walking over to the hummock where our guns were stacked, I was leaning to pick mine up when, with a bellow of rage, the young bull reared and whipped his flail-like flippers at me. Luckily the guns were stacked so as to form a temporary barrier, but unluckily one thick paw was impaled on a bayonet. Rearing in fresh rage, the animal lunged at me with incredible speed, snapping the gun between his javelin teeth as though it was a straw. I leaped backward, but slipped.

Instantly he clutched at my body, but missed in the semidarkness, lunged and clutched again, catching my right arm in his powerful maw. His awkwardness enabled me to regain my feet, but, with a ripping tug, the animal fastened on to the sleeve of my heavy skin jacket, out of which I slipped just as one of my men drove a harpoon into him just above the eye.

EUGENIE'S WEDDING DAY.

The Gift of Violets From the Market Women of Paris.

Even on her wedding day the Empress Eugenie received a sign of ill omen. The market women of Paris presented her with a mountain of violets on the day of her marriage to Louis Napoleon.

And those market women—they boiled over! They yelled and pushed and crowded into the palace gardens. They screeched and screamed for the empress until at last a window opened, and Eugenie stepped out on the balcony, and, ever eager to please, she held in her hands a great mass of the violets the market women had sent her.

Then suddenly one old fish wife shrieked out at those of the committee: "Pigs! Idiots! It is the flower of sorrow you have sent to her." While quick another raved out: "It is the color of mourning that you send the bride of the emperor! Violets—purple violets to a bride! Pigs! Idiots! Devils! It is an omen—a sign of evil!"

And then the fight began! Oh, mon Dieu! They are terrible! They tear one another like wild beasts! The gendarmes try hard to make order, when a voice up above us says out clear and gentle, "Oh, soldiers, don't hurt them!"

And the idea that any soldier on earth could hurt a dame des Halles was so funny that everybody stopped fighting to laugh. And they laugh and laugh and wipe off the blood and slap the gendarmes and say, "Don't hurt us, messieurs—don't!" And they dance and shout, and the beautiful empress stands now by the emperor and bows and throws violets to the crowd, and all below cry, "Vive l'Impatrice!"

And she smiles and smiles and so retreats. But that old witch was right! Yes, madame, though the violet was the flower of the Bonaparte, it is the flower of sorrow, not fit to send a bride! It was an omen and given at the Tuilleries it pointed to Chiselhurst. —Clara Morris in Woman's Home Companion.

Who He Was.

At the crossing of the river Styx Death met a stranger with a grin on his face.

"Who are you?" demanded Death.

"I am your manservant," replied the stranger.

"My manservant!" repeated Death, somewhat puzzled to know what the new arrival meant.

"In other words, the valet of the shadow of Death," chorled the stranger.

It is perhaps superfluous to add that before journeying hence the stranger had been a professional jokesmith.—New York Times.

A VOTE OF THANKS.

The Way Dwight L. Moody Handled the Question in England.

Possibly the most novel response ever made to a request to return a vote of thanks to a chairman was that made by Dwight L. Moody during his first visit to England.

He had attended a meeting at which the Earl of Shaftesbury was chairman. The duty of proposing a vote of thanks was assigned to him and the announcement made:

"Our American cousin, the Rev. Mr. Moody of Chicago, will now move a vote of thanks to the noble earl who has presided on this occasion."

The whole thing was quite out of Mr. Moody's line. English formalities might or might not have come gracefully from his lips had he attempted them, but he did not. With an utter disregard of conventionality he burst upon the audience with the bold announcement:

"The speaker has made two mistakes. To begin with, I'm not the Rev. Mr. Moody at all. I'm plain Dwight L. Moody, a Sunday school worker. And then I'm not your American cousin. By the grace of God I'm your brother, interested with you in our Father's work for his children."

"And now about this vote of thanks to the noble earl for being our chairman this evening! I don't see why we should thank him any more than he should thank us. When at one time they offered to thank our Mr. Lincoln for presiding over a meeting in Illinois he stopped it. He said he'd tried to do his duty and they'd tried to do theirs. He thought it was about an even thing all round."

That opening fairly took the breath away from Mr. Moody's hearers. Such a talk could not be gauged by any known standard. Mr. Moody carried his English audiences with him from that beginning to his latest labors.
